

I am totally opposed to cell phone use on airline flights-period. It is annoying enough to be surrounded by cell phone conversations at the gate, on the airplane prior to closing the door and upon landing-I don't want my space being infringed upon by a phone conversation inches away when I can't move away from it.